

Do you want a role where you can make a real impact? Do you want to work in really small classes where you can get to know your pupils individually and offer them personalised learning? Then join our fantastic team and make a real difference to the life and education of our amazing children.

We are seeking to appoint a creative and highly effective teacher who:

- has high expectations
- makes learning fun
- has the ability to motivate and inspire children
- has enthusiasm, energy and a good sense of humour
- is flexible and able to adapt to meet the needs of our pupils
- Is interested in developing expertise in special educational needs
- would like the opportunity to teach in a holistic, child-centred way

In return we can offer:

- a welcoming and supportive staff team who will encourage and support your professional development
- A child-centred, holistic environment
- a thorough induction package
- an exciting, creative curriculum
- a sense of adventure; you will never be bored!

Kings Meadow School is a good primary special school (Ofsted November 2016) catering for pupils with complex social, emotional and mental health difficulties. Our overall aim is to help pupils who have previously found school a challenge to become independent, lifelong learners.

Applications are welcomed from all aspirational teachers, whether from mainstream or special education. A positive attitude and drive to work with our children are important to us. Applications from ECT's will be considered.

Candidates with the expertise and/or willingness to lead a core subject across the school would be particularly welcomed and a TLR may be considered for an experienced candidate. However, this is not an essential requirement to apply for the role.

The school is committed to safeguarding, safer recruitment practices and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.
